The squall line ripped through Tennessee and a tornado slapped its angry tail at Newbern, Dyersburg and Four Points. Several buildings and homes were damaged.

A small tornado ripped through a river community west of Florence, Ala., a whirling, lightning-filled cloud skipped across the screen of a drive-in theater at intermission time, passed the parked cars of spectators, and roared away to a nearby airport, where at least 10 light planes were destroyed.

Another tornado hit Sky Park Airport near Florence and high winds were reported as far south as Birmingham.

Near Jasper, Ala., in Walker County, Grady Tucker, 37, and his infant daughter were injured severely when their tornado-wrecked house caught fire.

Tornadoes lashed through Central and Southern Minnesota from Fairmount, Minn., near the Iowa border, to St. Cloud Saturday. At least three persons were killed and property damage was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Aid To Free World Boosted 10 Per Cent By U. S. During 1952

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. aid to friendly countries increased 10 per cent in 1952 while their payments to the U. S. went up more than 25 per cent, the Commerce Department reported yesterday.

It gave these figures:

Total U. S. aid to the free world in 1952 was $5,578,000,000, compared with $5,074,000,000 in 1951. Of the 1952 total $2,738,000,000 was military aid, nearly double the 1951 figure of $1,484,000,000.

Returns on aid—repayment of loans and reverse aid such as land for U. S. military installations—amounted to $74 million dollars in 1952, as against $52 million in 1951.

The net U. S. foreign aid figure in 1952 was thus $5,004,000,000. It was $4,622,000,000 in 1951.

Snooping Revived

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities opens an investigation today of Communist infiltration in education, radio, film, television, newspaper, legal and medical fields.

A committee member, Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.), said the group would seek to "clean up loose ends" left after a subcommittee inquiry last fall.

Auto Workers To Tighten Ban On Communists

By GLENN ENGLE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Leaders of the CIO United Auto Workers readied a new weapon today aimed at curbing any Communists or sympathizers within the union's 1,350,000 membership.

A constitutional amendment prepared for presentation to the UAW's international convention would make it easier to prove a member is a Communist and thus ineligible to hold office in the union.

The auto workers was one of the first to bar Communists — Nazis and Fascists to — from office. But it has found it difficult to prove, under the present provision, that any particular member is a Communist or subservient to the party.

The new provision, whose details were not disclosed before presentation to the convention, would make the proof easier. However, it still would not oust Communists or sympathizers from membership but only from office.

As the convention went into its second day it became apparent that tightening of the anti-Communist provision would be one of three major issues to come up.

The others will be:

1. The formal launching of the UAW's campaign for guaranteed annual wage in 1955.

2. The marshaling of support of the nearly 3,000 delegates behind the union's demand that the auto industry revise the current five-year contracts to meet inflationary developments since they were signed in 1950.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther has hinted strongly that the union wouldn't hesitate to strike if necessary to win either the annual wage or the current contract revisions.

In his opening address yesterday, Reuther called the annual wage the only means of bringing about full employment and full production in peacetime.

Reuther told the delegates he still is hopeful that further action can be taken at a Washington meeting April 7 toward merging the AFL and CIO.

Fishermen Saved After 24 Hours In Keweenaw Ice Jam

HOUGHTON (AP) — Trapped 24 hours in an ice jam on Keweenaw Bay, two commercial fishermen were rescued Sunday. Two steel-hulled fishing boats, directed by a Civil Air Patrol plane, battered their way to 20-foot craft.

The rescued were Uno Weidermann, 40, and Waino Vissula, 21, both of Keweenaw Bay. They put out Saturday to tend their nets. A strong wind shifted ice fields, catching their boat in a jam six miles off shore.

Icebreakers Open Lake Shipping Lanes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coast Guard vessels start breaking shipping lanes this week through ice 14 to 20 inches thick in the St. Mary's River.

Should warm weather prevail throughout the week, the Coast Guard predicts that the first ore vessels will enter the river on Saturday in one of the earliest openings of Great Lakes navigation in years.

Straits Cleared

Great Lakes boats have to pass through the St. Mary's from the lower lakes to enter Lake Superior. Then they proceed to the head of the lakes to take on ore at Duluth.

Aim For Record

Other shipping firms also are preparing for what they hope will be the biggest year of them all—100,000,000 tons of ore shipped for the nation's steel mills.

The record, in round numbers, is 92,000,000 tons of ore shipped for the nation's steel mills.

The record, in round numbers, is 92,000,000, set in 1942, a war year. Last summer the fleet-halted for almost two months by the CIO-Steel Workers' strike—hailed about 75,000,000 tons.

Big Name Man Suggested For GOP Chairman

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Republicans are discussing the possibility of replacing C. Wesley Roberts with a "big name" chairman of the GOP National Committee.

This suggestion has come primarily from associates of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) but also is being discussed privately by national committee members who are friends of Roberts and were prenomination backers of President Eisenhower.

Still Under Fire

Roberts became GOP chairman after the November election, succeeding Arthur E. Summerfield, who became postmaster general.

Roberts has been under fire in Kansas for his part in the 1951 sale of a fraternal insurance organization's building to the state. The national chairman said he got an $11,000 fee for public relations work in the $10,000 sale but denied he lobbied among legislators for it.

Roberts, a former Kansas Republican state chairman and an early worker in the Eisenhower presidential campaign, has accused a Kansas City Star reporter of distorting the story of his fee. The reporter, Alvin McCoy, replied he wrote only the facts.

Clean Bill Anticipated

Roberts' national committee friends think he will be given a clean bill in a report soon by the Kansas Legislative Investigating Committee.

Some witnesses told the committee the building on state property, either already belonged to Kansas or would revert to the state if the insurance company abandoned it.

Border Patrols Glare In Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Russian zone and West Berlin police leveled their guns at each other for half an hour today across an escape-bent East Zone truck which crashed a border fence and got stuck—its cab in Berlin's French sector, its back end still in Communist territory.

Inside the cab was Rudolf Schultz, 36, an East Zone businessman fleeing West after his father's arrest for "economic sabotage."

He crashed a Communist-erected border fence at Sandkrug road, connecting the French sector with the Russian zone, but hit a lamp-post and stuck with only half his vehicle across the line.

A squad of 25 Communist police rushed up and leveled carbines to force Schultz back into their zone. They were quickly matched by some 25 West Berlin border patrolmen, who trained their own rifles on the Reds.

The two forces faced each other until a West Berlin fire truck pulled the rest of Schultz' truck into the French sector. Then both squads withdrew, leaving only regular border patrols on the spot.

West Berlin police said Schultz' wife and two children also had fled to the West, but by a different route, probably by train.

A-Bomb Emphasizes Civil Defense Task For American People

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two government leaders, citing last week's televised atomic tests in Nevada, are urging the American people to do more for civil defense.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic leader, said the tests convinced him neither military nor civil defenses are yet ready.

Rep. Keating (R-NY), investigating alleged interference by the State and Justice Departments with a New York federal grand jury which last Dec. 2 said American subversives had infiltrated the U. N.

In a hearing last Dec. 31, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson told the subcommittee he had inherited a department policy of keeping hands off U. N. appointments when he became secretary of state in 1947.

Acheson's predecessor was James F. Byrnes, now governor of South Carolina. Committee members expect to hear from Byrnes directly before the hearings are concluded Friday.

Highway Dedicated

JACKSON (AP) — Today US-12 officially is the "Red Arrow Memorial Highway." It was dedicated as such in rain-soaked ceremonies here Sunday. The state legislature previously had designated that stretch of US-12 through Michigan as a memorial to the 32nd Division.

His new car was never driven again.

The story came out with the filing of an inheritance tax appraisal report on Schwentler's estate in probate court. He died in 1951 at the age of 90.

The 1934 Ford was found jacked up in a garage behind his home.

The speedometer showed a total of 58 miles.

Gen. Van Fleet Favors Deal To Wind Up War

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some sentiment for a more aggressive strategy in the deadlocked Korean War was evident today among senators who heard Gen. James A. Van Fleet detail his complaints that American forces there don't have enough ammunition.

Van Fleet, recently retired after nearly two years as Allied field commander in Korea, called for harder-hitting attacks on the Reds. But he said he doubts United Nations forces have enough ammunition to repel any major offensive the Communists might mount.

Shell Stocks Low

"Sure, if there is a sit down and no fighting," Van Fleet said, "there is no ammunition requirement; therefore, no shortage."

But he added, "should the enemy start something, which is unpredictable, then do we have enough to meet his offensive, and I say 'No.'"

Van Fleet said stocks were so low at times that he issued orders to cut down on artillery fire, and that the troops "have to be in trouble in order to shoot" the heavier mortars and howitzers.

The general spoke out in testimony heard by the Senate Armed Services Committee behind closed doors earlier this month. A transcript, with security information deleted, was made public by the committee last night.

Senate Begins Debate On Nomination Of Ambassador To Russia

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — With critics urging an apparently futile rear-guard action, the Senate opens debate today on President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia.

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) said he has a "cheatful" of information for his colleagues about Bohlen, and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was asking for a delay in a showdown vote. Both have demanded closer scrutiny of an FBI security checkup on the appointee's background.

Confirmation Predicted

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, predicted that a substantial majority of his party members will join with most of the Republicans to confirm Bohlen.

McCarthy and McCarran have contended Dulles cleared Bohlen to recall Secretary of State Dulles and to get testimony from R. W. Scott McLean, State Department security officer.

Cleared Over Objections

Sen. McCarran (D-Ark.) not a foreign relations committee member, said McCarran out to be summoned to "speak for himself." But Dulles said he doesn't think security officers, "whose primary job is to raise doubts and find out suspicious circumstances, are the persons who should have final responsibility" and passed the case on up to him.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), not a foreign relations committee member, said McCarran out to be summoned to "speak for himself." But Dulles said he doesn't think security officers, "whose primary job is to raise doubts and find out suspicious circumstances, are the persons who should have final responsibility" and passed the case on up to him.

Communities Must Work Together To Help U.P. Procure More Industry

The importance of thinking in terms of benefiting the Upper Peninsula as a whole and of gaining the full cooperation of all communities toward that end was emphasized at a special U. P. state fair board meeting held here yesterday to discuss the U. P.'s industrial potential.

Economically, what benefits one community in Upper Michigan directly certainly benefits all communities in Upper Michigan indirectly, the chairman said.

Plan Termed Feasible

George E. Bishop, of Marquette, secretary-manager of the U. P. Development Bureau, and Aarne R. Ervast, industrial agent for the Michigan Department of Economic Development, Lansing, attended the meeting and expressed their views on the fair industrial expansion plan.

After inquiring and procuring specific information about the plan to enlarge the exhibition building to the extent of approximately 10,000 more square feet and to stage industrial expositions designed to attract more industry to the U. P., Bishop termed the program feasible and said he would lend his personal support to it.

Ervast also expressed himself as being keenly in favor of the project to unify the Upper Peninsula from the standpoint of procuring more industry for the area. He said the job was to get all communities to work together to the extent that if a certain community did not quite fill the bill, it should recommend or contact another U. P. city that has the requirements set by a certain industry.

The U. P. Area

In the past, he pointed out, communities have not cooperated to this extent. If this program is to be a success, that communities forget their jealousies and differences and think in terms of the Upper Peninsula as an area.

other such groups must begin to think in terms of the U. P. as an area and work together, he said.

Information sought from the respective cities for a U. P. industrial exposition is that which is of primary interest to prospective industry managements, such as available sites, amount of floor space in present available structures, transportation facilities, utilities, labor personnel and data concerning raw materials.

With an enlarged exhibition building, such information from all communities could be assembled and attractive displays constructed for a large show of industrial potential in the U. P., it was pointed out.

In addition to Miller, Bishop and Ervast, others attending were Early Allingham, of Escanaba, and A. J. Phillips, of St. Ignace, of the U. P. fair board; Ray LaPorte, secretary-manager of the U. P. fair, and Ken L. Gunderman and James G. Ward, Jr., of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Fontana Receives Another Chance On Air Force Contract

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Results of a special investigation by a subcommittee of the house government operations committee have induced the air force to give the Fontana School of Aeronautics at Iron Mountain, Mich., another chance at an air force contract totaling about $3,500,000.

The school, which has been training pilots and reconditioning aircraft in its Iron Mountain shop, was low bidder on a job to recondition 15 C-82 aircraft. The air force then changed its plans and upped the job to 68 planes. It decided the Iron Mountain concern was not equipped to do such a big job.

Representative John B. Bennett of Ontonagon and Senators Potter and Ferguson, all Michigan Republicans, protested the air force investigation so the matter was investigated by the house committee.

At closed sessions of the committee recently, it was brought out that Joe and Mario Fontana, operators of the school, had arranged to carry out the contract in a part of the old Ford Motor Co. woodworking plant at Iron Mountain.

An original air force "task force" had inspected the facilities and found them adequate, but the air force procurement branch at Dayton, Ohio, held there was not enough skilled labor available and that the facilities were inadequate.

Bennett, who testified before the committee, said the old Ford plant is one of the finest in the country and that Iron Mountain has a plentiful supply of labor. He pointed out that about 1,500 persons are employed in Iron Mountain and that if the Fontanas got the job, they could employ about 600 men. He said he objected to "crowding out the Fontanas in an unlawful and arbitrary manner."

In agreeing to accept a new bid from the Fontanas, the air force promised to resurvey the facilities at Iron Mountain.

Murder-By-Mistake Gets 99-Year Term; Texas Feud Revived

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP)—A 99-year sentence was handed Mario (El Turko) Sapet last night for the "murder by mistake" slaying of a slain old South Texas political leader.

To convict Sapet the District Court jury had been charged that it must find that Alfredo Cervantes, a Mexican national who has never been arrested, was the triggerman, and that Sapet conspired to kill Jacob S. Floyd Sr., but by mistake killed his son. It convicted Sapet of murder with malice.

Defense To Appeal
The case was tried here on a change of venue.

Jacob S. Floyd Jr., 22, was fatally shot in Alice last Sept. 8. Defense attorneys said they would appeal.

Sapet, San Antonio bar owner and sometime deputy sheriff of George B. Parr, South Texas political power, and Nago Alanz, Alice attorney, were charged with conspiring to kill Jacob S. Floyd Sr. The indictment says young Floyd was killed by mistake.

Floyd Sr. is a leader of a political party in the 79th District that opposes Parr. He said Alanz told him the night of the shooting that "a man is waiting in your garage to kill you" and that "Mario Sapet is the leader of the killers."

Alibi Claimed

Sapet pleaded innocent. He claimed he was on a bus bound from Corpus Christi to San Antonio at the time of the shooting.

Fred Semaan, one of the defense attorneys, accused the state of trying George Parr and not Mario Sapet.

The students will take over the city government for one day, Wednesday, March 25.

Local Musicians Honored At U. P. Music Festival

Two units from Escanaba, one from Escanaba Senior High School and the other from St. Joseph High School, were selected along with 18 other groups from the Upper Peninsula to perform in an evening program at a vocal and ensemble music festival in Marquette last Saturday.

The Escanaba High School group was the string quartet, which received a division one rating, composed of Charles Rose, violin, Sara Dunathan, second violin, Mary Larsen, viola, and Rosemary Nault, cello. The quartet is under the instruction of Mrs. Clara Somers.

Miss Anne Giegel, soprano from St. Joseph who also had a division one rating, was the other performer in the night's program from Escanaba. Anne sang a solo and encore. Sister Cedella was the director of the St. Joseph music students.

The best performers in the day-long program were selected to perform in the evening program. Each unit received a comment sheet prepared by adjudicators showing their good and weak points.

Business Profits Tax Of 2% Is Fair Solution To State Problem

THE proposal of Sen. Joseph Cloon of Wakefield to tax business profits in Michigan in excess of $10,000 by a two percent assessment seems like a reasonable solution to the state's financial dilemma.

No one likes additional taxes and the Cloon proposal undoubtedly will make a lot of people unhappy. The state's financial predicament, however, is bad and the Legislature has been wrong in past years by its failure to do something to clean up the mess.

The tax diversion amendment has put the state in a bad way financially and additional revenue must be found. The problem has been to find a means of getting additional money for the state without adding an excessive burden on taxpayers.

Consumers—wage and salary earners—are already paying more than their fair share of the load by means of the 3% retail sales tax. The only logical place to find the additional revenue is from business profits.

Gov. Williams has been insisting upon a corporation profits tax of 4% to yield

HAWAII AND STATEHOOD (Christian Science Monitor)

Once again Hawaii trembles on the brink of statehood. Or, more exactly, the United States trembles on the brink of accepting Hawaii into the sisterhood of states. Once again the House of Representatives has voted for statehood, while Southern Democrats and other opponents in the Senate prepare to dig in their heels once more.

This newspaper recognizes that there are cogent arguments on both sides of the question. But on balance we feel that the case for statehood is more persuasive than arguments for leaving Hawaii adrift from the mainland with no more than territorial or, at most, dominion status.

The multiracial character of the islands, which is often cited as an objection, could even serve a very useful purpose in America's dealings with the Far East, helping to counteract propaganda that presents United States policy in terms of "White imperialism." As a preeminently successful laboratory of race relations within the American democratic pattern, Hawaii is a moral as well as geographical link with the vast, awakening world on the other side of the Pacific.

This is but one facet of a complex, highly debatable issue. But it might well be given at least as much weight as the domestic partisan interests which have played so large a part in the Senate's past decisions on the matter.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

gadget—"What is the derivation and meaning of the word gadget?"—T. L. D., Waterbury, Conn.

The use of the term gadget has been traced back to about 1870 among seafaring men, among whom it was an indefinite or general name for a tool or instrument, or any contrivance the name of which was not immediately recalled. Since that time the term has come into general use with that meaning. The source of the name is uncertain, but may have been the French word, gachette, which is applied to various parts of the mechanism of a gun.

redundancy—"Is not the expression, 'need not necessarily' redundant?"—T. T., Jr., Morgantown, W. Va.

Yes, those who use the expression either are attempting to be humorous or don't know any better. It is enough to say, "is not necessarily," or "is not inevitably," or the like.

The Doctor Says... 'Nerves' Are Partial Cause Of Blood Pressure Problem

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

"I have often wondered," writes M. C., "what is meant by blood pressure. Mine was taken some time back when the reading was 114/70. At the fair I had it taken again on a dare, and the reading was 110/68. I am 69 years old and in good health."

The blood pressure which M. C. reports is indeed good for a woman of 69. It may also be said that the difference between the two is of no significance. However, since there are many people who seem quite vague about what blood pressure is, and what keeps it where it should be, or makes it go up or down, this subject seems well worth a discussion.

MORE PEOPLE TROUBLED

One of the most remarkable things about the blood pressure is how it is affected by the nerves. Excitement, worry, anger and other emotions send the pressure skyrocketing. The pressure is almost always highest the first time the doctor takes it when it is later on. Even an exciting conversation will cause the pressure to go up.

Since many of us are being constantly bombarded by worries and annoyances there is always something keeping us stirred up. This, added to the fact that more and more people are living longer, has made high blood pressure a problem to more people than ever before.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It has just bubbled to the surface, but two top Republicans got into a bitter backstage wrangle last week over "hard liquor" being served in the Capitol Building. They were Congressmen John Saylor of Pennsylvania, who wanted to throw a "buffet supper" for his mother, and A. L. "Doc" Miller of Nebraska who called it a "cocktail party" and stopped it on the excuse that highballs would be served.

What caused the ruckus was Saylor's plan to use the house interior committee room for his get-together. As a subcommittee of this committee, Saylor made all the arrangements at his own expense and sent out invitations to committee members.

Among those invited was the committee's crotchety chairman, "Doc" Miller, who has been conducting a running feud with his fellow Republican subcommittee. Miller promptly tattled to House Speaker Joe Martin about the cocktail party, then wrote Saylor an amazing letter threatening to "expose" him.

Miller's letter was never meant to be published. However, here is what he wrote: "I have your invitation to attend a 'little party' in the committee room . . . on March 19th. I want to call your attention to the recent conversation between us . . . when you asked if you could have the use of the committee room for a party, I said in effect that if hard liquor was to be served, I would not give that consent or be responsible for such a party. You replied in effect, 'Doctor, what's a party without a highball?'

"NO COCKTAIL" MILLER

"I have talked today with the Speaker and Mr. Jim Auchincloss (in charge of the house office buildings), and they tell me I have control and am responsible for the committee room," Miller continued triumphantly. "I know they agree with me that the committee room should not be used for so-called cocktail parties . . .

"I am assuming you are using the room for a social get-together minus hard liquor," the letter went on. "If such is not the case, you do not have my permission to use the committee room. If the room is used in violation of this letter, I would expect to take the case to the floor of the house for an airing. The resulting publicity could cut two ways."

IKE'S TOUR

A little incident which happens in the home of almost every married couple—even presidential couples—happened in the White House recently.

The President was conducting a group of congressmen through the White House and took them off the customary tour to give them a special look at his own personal quarters upstairs.

These consist of a sitting room, with a couple of bedrooms attached. Ike, who gets along with the Democrats almost better than with the Republicans, took the group up to the door of the sitting room and started in.

Suddenly there was a feminine shriek. Inside was Mamie in a black negligee. The startled First Lady rushed into the bedroom, Ike grinned, and decided he'd better stick to the routine sight-seeing tour of his new home in the future.

PERSPIRING DEFENSE BOSS

The man who is getting the most backstage brickbats in Washington but probably deserves the most sympathy is ex-General Motors Boss Charles E. Wilson, perspiring, persevering Secretary of Defense.

Starting out with two big strikes against him, the opposition of congress and part of the public, Wilson now has another strike against him—the opposition of the brass hats. But he probably deserves the support of congress and the public as of the substance.

Americans are partly to blame for this false portrait. Some who travel or live abroad do not represent our best traits. On top of that, our books and our movies put extraordinary stress upon our faults and too little upon our virtues. They overplay our crime, our pursuit of the dollar, our gadgets, our fads and manias.

This man knew at first hand the worst communism had to offer. Yet he hung on and on far past the point of reasonableness. Why?

Because, quite plainly, he could see no decent alternative. This must come as a shock to us, for we think of American notions of freedom and material standards as presenting a pretty respectable future for anybody.

But Einsiedel, like many of his German countrymen, like many Frenchmen and Britshers and Italians, has a badly warped image of America. He sees it as given over almost wholly to crass materialism, to all the externals of a good life but little of the substance.

Americans are partly to blame for this false portrait. Some who travel or live abroad do not represent our best traits.

On top of that, our books and our movies put extraordinary stress upon our faults and too little upon our virtues. They overplay our crime, our pursuit of the dollar, our gadgets, our fads and manias.

But the Europeans themselves are much to blame. Of course they can't afford to travel to see us first hand, as we do to see them. Still, they could make a far greater effort to report American life through European eyes, through the eyes of their own correspondents.

European coverage of America always has been ridiculously insufficient. And for the most part what coverage they do have gives them a distorted, outdated, unreal picture of this country. To read of America in British newspapers is to wonder what planet the reporters are on.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

FOR OLDER RESIDENTS—Perhaps it will mean little except to older residents of Escanaba to know that Mrs. Joanna R. McKenna, widow of the late Philip J. McKenna, died Feb. 8 at Towson, Maryland.

For the younger people of the Escanaba community will not recall either Mr. or Mrs. McKenna, although they once were well known to Escanaba.

Mr. McKenna was an attorney and (to the best of our knowledge) founded The Daily Mirror, one of Escanaba early newspapers.

Mrs. McKenna (Joanna Richardson McKenna) taught school in Escanaba until her marriage and according to the recollection of Anthony Manley Sr. she may have graduated with the first Escanaba Senior High School class of 1886. Mr. Manley graduated the following year.

Eighty-seven years old at the time of her death, Mrs. McKenna is survived by three daughters and three sons, none of whom reside in Escanaba.

They are Mrs. Ethel Fergau, Mrs. Blanche Mahoney, Mrs. Ruth Mayer, and Harold, Philip Jr. and Arthur.

Information concerning the death of Mrs. McKenna was received here by one of her friends, Mrs. Charles Molloy, 821 South 14th St.

HOME CENTER—One of Escanaba's most unique recreation centers for youngsters is in the basement of the Joseph Clairmont home, 1827 Fourth Ave. S.

Mr. and Mrs. Clairmont decided that their children and the youngsters in the neighborhood should have a play center of their own. The remodeling of the basement into a recreation room followed.

It was complete with a juke box for playing records, ping pong table, and other equipment young people enjoy. Nightly entertainment was offered for "the gang" and the Clairmont recreation room was the popular place in the neighborhood all through the winter months.

Saturday the "recreation center" closed with a gala special event—movies from 2 to 4 p. m. and other entertainment. The children appreciated having a place to play and the facilities provided for them during the winter. The attendance proved its popularity, ranging up to 30 youngsters at one time.

BASEBALL FANS—A telephone call interrupted the writing of this column and a man at Cooks deposited 45 cents in a pay phone and asked me:

"Was Joe DiMaggio ever married?"

Fortunately I knew that Joe was a baseball player and that in the files or "morgue" is kept the biography of most famous people. So I told the gentleman he had the phone while I looked up DiMaggio's life history. I came back to report:

"Joe DiMaggio was married in San Francisco in 1939 to Dorothy Arnold, an actress. She obtained a divorce in Los Angeles in 1944. They have a son, Joe, Jr."

The man from Cooks was guarded in his comment on the information. He probably had a bet on with someone and didn't want to give himself

Congressional Quiz

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY
Q—I've heard that it is especially difficult to balance the federal budget because part of it can't be touched due to previous commitments. Why is this?

A—After the start of the Korean War, Congress appropriated large sums to allow the government to order planes, guns and other military equipment for later delivery. President Eisenhower told Congress Feb. 2 this "accumulated obligation authority" now is more than $80 billion, and nearly all of it will be spent in the next four years. The military spending and other "hard" items mean Congress and the President actually can "work with" only part of the $78.6 billion the Truman Administration estimated would be spent in the coming fiscal year. Truman said spending would exceed tax revenue by about $10 billion.

Q—Is President Eisenhower in favor of tax cuts now?

A—In his Feb. 2 State of the Union message he said, "Reduction of taxes will be justified only as we show we can succeed in bringing the budget under control." He added, "Until we can determine the extent to which expenditures can be reduced, it would not be wise to reduce our revenues."

Q—How much revenue will the government lose from automatic tax cuts now in law?

A—According to the Joint Committee on the Economic Report, about $2.2 billion for the year starting July 1, when the cuts begin taking effect, and $8.5 billion for a full year of the tax cuts. Under the 1951 Revenue Act, the main reductions are: Excess-profits tax expires June 30, 1953; income tax falls 10 per cent Jan. 1, 1954, and corporation and numerous excise taxes drop to pre-1951 levels April 1, 1954.

Q—I have to pay income tax to both state and federal governments. Do many states tax income?

A—According to the Treasury Department, 29 states and the District of Columbia tax incomes, two others tax income from "intangibles" only (interest and dividends) and two tax income under their property taxes. In Missouri and Kentucky, which have a regular income tax, one or more cities also tax income. In Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan, some cities tax income, but the states do not.

Q—Who collects the most taxes, federal, state, or local governments?

A—In fiscal 1951, according to the Census Bureau, the federal government collected 72 per cent of the $63.6 billion in taxes levied by all three levels of government.

Of this total, about $46 billion was federal, $8.9 billion state, and $8.6 billion local. Federal, state and local taxes are expected to total around $80 billion, when all data is compiled for fiscal 1952.

Q—Did the 83rd Congress pass any laws before President Eisenhower was inaugurated?

A—Just one. It passed a joint resolution to make inauguration day (Jan. 20) a holiday for government workers in the Washington, D. C., area. The legislation became public law when signed Jan. 16 by President Truman. It was the last legislative measure Mr. Truman signed before he left the White House.

Q—I know that all bills on taxation go to either the House Ways and Means or the Senate Finance Committee. But why was legislation to impose a 25 per cent Constitutional limit on income taxes sent to the Judiciary Committee?

A—Because it calls for an amendment to the Constitution, and all proposals to amend the Constitution customarily are referred to the House or Senate Judiciary Committee. If Congress approves the tax limit amendment it still must be ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states, before taking effect.

Q—When was the last time a Republican President spoke in person to Congress?

A—Until President Eisenhower personally delivered his State of the Union message Feb. 2, a Republican President had not appeared before Congress since Calvin Coolidge gave a George Washington Day talk Feb. 22, 1927, according to the Library of Congress.

Q—Has there been any plan to reduce income taxes when the cost of living rises?

A—Rep. Pat Sutton (D-Tenn.) Feb. 3 introduced a bill to reduce income taxes in proportion to the increase in the "consumers price index" since the 1935-1939 period. This would be done by increasing the $600 personal exemption. Under the "190.80" price index which Patton cited when he introduced the bill, for example, each exemption would be raised to $1,145 (that's 190.8 per cent of $600). For a married couple with two children, the exemption would be $4,580 (four times $1,145).

Manitoba Will Begin On Drainage Project

THE PAS, Man. (AP)—A large drainage project will give Northern Manitoba a belt of productive farmland in territory long beaten by floods.

An agreement was reached recently between the Manitoba and Federal governments whereby 100,000 acres in the forks of the Pasquia, Carrot and Saskatchewan Rivers, which flow together near here, is to be reclaimed through diking and interior drainage. The project will cost about $1,350,000.

The reclaimed land will be sold at prices ranging from $10 to $30 an acre. At least one-half of the land must be sold to war veterans or persons from submarginal lands in drought areas.

New England Town Has 'Flipper Dough'

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP)—For 15 cents you can buy a pound of flipper dough in Provincetown—at the tip of Cape Cod.

If you go into the old bakeshop which advertises, "we have flipper dough today," and ask what it is, you'll be told, "It's dough to fry; you fry it in a pan; regular bread dough." It turns out to be the "fried dough" of New England tradition—served in cruller-shaped bits—piping hot with maybe a sprinkling of sugar.

But why do they call it "flipper dough"? Maybe because it's flipped over like a pancake in frying, but nobody is quite sure.

George Jensens Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. George Jensen of 1716 S. 14th St., residents of the Escanaba community for over a half century, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday.

A family dinner was served at the House of Ludington and a reception attended by over 300 relatives and friends was held from 3 to 6 in the parlors of the First Methodist Church.

The dinner table at the Ludington was centered with an effective arrangement of green and white carnations, yellow snapdragons and gold leaves.

Centering the reception table in the church parlors was a plastic fountain filled with daffodils. Mrs. William Kuebler and Mrs. Nana Foster poured. The reception program included two solos by Mrs. Jack Foster.

Mrs. Jensen wore a black and white ensemble with a corsage of gold flowers for the occasion. Complementing her attire was an heirloom pin owned by Mrs. Charles Thielicke. The pin has been worn as "something blue" by brides of two continents. Previous to yesterday's golden wedding it had been worn by 94 brides and 2 golden wedding brides.

WASHABLE CARPET

A new plastic and felt floor covering, virtually indestructible has been developed by a firm in Lancashire, (England) and will be shown at the British Industries Fair this year, reports British Information Services.

It has been found to stand up better under the most rigid tests than any known equivalent. Tests have included fifty thousand emery-cloth rubs which left the material perfectly usable, an indentation test which failed to mark it although linoleum similarly tested was permanently impressed; and concentrated acid tests which failed to alter the coloration.

A covering of this material laid down on the floor of the company's plant has withstood 3½ years trampling of men in metal-shod clogs wheeling metal-wheeled trucks.

Spattering of hot fat pan may be stopped by sprinkling a little flour in the hot frying pan.

Paint Makes It Pretty

Leonard Capulli of Chicago makes a show piece out of his old, but still serviceable, refrigerator by pepping up its yellowed and worn exterior with bold, bright provincial motifs. Small cans of enamel used for the job are kept at hand on the tray on his knees.

By KAY SHERWOOD

Your old refrigerator, even though its face is yellowing, worn and scarred, can be transformed into the show piece of your kitchen for less than a dollar. Bold, bright provincial designs that you can paint on some rainy afternoons are the answer.

American homemakers applaud the fact that most refrigerators are so well constructed that their motors will purr along smoothly for many years. But we all know that heavy family usage and repeated scrubbings will eventually make their marks on the porcelain surfaces. The finish loses its dazzling whiteness and begins to wear thin around the top and sides of the door. A hard bump can cause chipping.

All you'll need to give the old relic a new outlook are four small cans of bright-colored, glossy enamel plus a water-color brush you buy or borrow from the children's coloring set. A small jar of turpentine and a rag will be needed to clean the brush between colors.

A Man To Thank

For the idea and tips for successful art work, we have a man to thank. Leonard Capulli, buyer for a large Chicago department store, has a 15-year-old refrigerator which was recently reconditioned to save the expense of buying a new one. But the exterior was an eyesore and in his old-fashioned kitchen, three sides are in view. So he decided to make this an asset rather than a liability.

Big, vivid, simple designs are the easiest to paint and the most effective, he says. Bright enamel makes even yellowing surfaces look whiter. If the finish is worn thin along door edges, painted borders will hide this.

For the design you can use the stylized figures of provincial boys and girls, fruits, vegetables and flowers. Or you can pick up the colors and motif from your kitchen wallpaper, or "china" or curtains. Even a family motto—Capulli used "Casa di Bastanza" or House of Plenty—can be lettered across the face of the refrigerator.

If you hesitate, as we did, to daub free-hand design on the surfaces, you can sketch in outlines to follow first. For this, you can use a pencil or borrow one

Accidents Menace Two Million Children

NEW YORK (AP) — About two million American children will lose their lives or be injured this year as the result of home accidents, according to a statistical study by the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co.

Falling out of windows is the commonest accident for youngsters under 5, with burns and poisons almost tied for second place. In the 5-to-14 age group, broken glass leads the hazards.

The company's Institute of Safer Living has compiled a list of suggestions for parents. Here are some: Screen windows and keep chairs away from them; keep matches, broken glass, household bleaches and other poisons out of the way; turn handles of hot utensils so that children cannot grasp them; secure rugs against slipping, and don't allow children to operate power equipment such as washing machines, wringers or dishwashers.

Old Dynamite Found Under Church Chapel

RICHFIELD, Utah (AP) — Enough dynamite to blow a church to kingdom come was found recently under a chapel. The custodian discovered 48 sticks of dynamite and 22 detonating caps near the boiler room of the chapel of the (Latter-Day Saints) Mormon Church. The explosives had become moldy, and a bishop recalled that dynamite had been used to blast a hole in the cellar 30 years ago. It was thought a worker forgot to remove the unused explosives.

LIGHT METAL

A cubic inch of aluminum weighs about one-tenth of a pound, or approximately one-third to one-fourth the weight of the same volume of brass, copper, iron, or steel.

A few minutes before you're ready to paint—and we found four colors, red, yellow, green and blue enough to cope with—the enamel cans and line them up with the can lids on a tray. After you mix up the paint, use the stirring stick to dip several drops of color on the can lid.

When paint thickens, it is easier to pick up the tiny bit needed on the brush tip. Using thickened paint also means fewer runs and drips. The cold hard surface of the refrigerator will set the paint rapidly so that you can switch from one color to another. Wash out the brush in the turpentine and wipe it on the rag each time you switch colors.

Spiritual Diary For Lent

Make a quiet life your ambition.

—1 Thessalonians 4:11 (Weymouth).

A flower more sacred than far-sought success

Perfumes my solitary path; I find

Sweet compensation in my humbleness,

And reap the harvest of a quiet mind.

—John Trowbridge

TODAY'S MESSAGE

We are an ambitious people, but here, in our text, the Apostle Paul suggests an ambition that would hardly have occurred to active Americans of this modern age. And yet, none could be more appropriate for us. We live in such bustling, boisterous times, that if we could attain it, it would prove an antidote to our feverish breathlessness and nerve exhaustion.

A quiet life is not to be symbolized by a mute Sphinx, a smiling Buddha or a sequestered tarn. It is not to be identified with the silence of indifference, the death of desire or artificial repose. Rather is it to be likened unto a river with its peaceful, un hurried flow to its appointed destination.

A quiet life performs its charity without the sounding of trumpets; extends its sympathy to the burdened and bereaved without the conventional chatter; and fulfills its mission in the calm assurance that "all things will work out for the good of those who love God." It is a life of purpose, without pageantry or parade.

—R. PAUL SCHEARRER

Takoma Park Church, Washington, D. C.

TODAY'S PRAYER

O God, whose power doth cause the light of each new day to break upon us in silence, grant that we may come to know that "in quietness and confidence shall be our strength." Amen.

Fortune Teller Has Clouded Crystal Ball

HONG KONG (AP) — Sammader Singh, 48, politely addressed the passerby:

"I can see you are a kind and happy man by the lines of your forehead. You put money here and I will tell your fortune."

But Singh's clouded crystal ball had failed him. He paid a fine in Kowloon court for attempting to obtain money by fortune telling. The passerby was Police Inspector K. P. Clark in plain clothes.

Tachistoscope Helps Child Reading Habits

HOUSTON (AP) — A wartime tachistoscope used to train troops in quick airplane identification is helping school children improve their reading speed.

In a remedial reading class for seventh grade students at Jackson

Junior High School, a series of phrases or numbers is flashed on a screen for a fraction of a second and the students drill in quick identification. The tachistoscope is helping school children improve words at once.

Gulliver Club Work Reviewed

Accomplishments of the Gulliver Community Planning Club since its organization in February, 1949, are reviewed by Mrs. Beulah A. Rice, secretary.

Two of the club's major projects were the effort to improve and expand telephone service and the task of brushing out and cleaning the northern shore of Gulliver Lake.

First step in stressing the need for more telephones and improved service was the circulation of petitions. Results of the effort, the club secretary reported, were most gratifying.

The job of improving the Gulliver Lake section required considerable time and a vast amount of volunteer work by Gulliver citizens. The north shore, however, was cleared of brush to provide a better view of the attractive lake from US-2, passing just to the north of the area.

Other activities of the club have included participation in polio and cancer fund drives, assistance with immunization clinics, sponsorship of three youths to an Upper Peninsula Older Boys Conference, and purchase of a piano for the primary room at Whitedale school.

The club also sent a delegate to a meeting of the Board of Supervisors to argue on behalf of retaining the Algoma Schoolcraft Health Department and petitioned the Doyle township board by resolution to improve the township dumping ground road to permit winter traffic.

The club now has plans underway to move the Palmer school building, purchased for a community center, to a site in Gulliver owned by the organization.

Edwin Johnson was the club's first president. A. F. Hall and T. H. Rue, of Manistique, assisted in its organization, Hall serving as temporary chairman during the organizational procedure.

Top Book Of 1952 Is Purchased By Public Library

A book that received the top award for 1952, Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man, is one of the recent publications purchased by the Manistique public library, it is announced. The book is now on display in the window of Johnson Cleaners.

Ellison's first novel was selected as the most distinguished work of book length fiction to be published last year by an American author.

It deals with the struggles and problems of a young Negro in present day America, and is a profound and uncompromising interpretation of the Negro's anomalous position in American society.

The display in the downtown show window also includes:

Prince of Players, Edwin Booth, by Eleanor Ruggles, which is a biography of the greatest genius of the American stage has ever known.

Golden Admiral, by F. Van Wyck

Mason, a pulse-stirring novel of Sir Francis Drake and the Armada.

This Happy Rural Seat, by George Lanning, an extraordinary first novel that brings to modern literature the mastery of style that was the hallmark of Henry James and a provocativeness and brilliance that belong to the author himself.

Snips and Snails, by Louise Baker, which makes delightful reading. In this deft and witty book she finds herself "out on a limb" as the sole female teacher at a private boys' school way out west. Few women ever get themselves into so many precarious situations as she, and few know how to have so much fun getting out of them.

ST. JOE TROJANS FANS—A large delegation of Escanaba basketball fans followed the St. Joe Trojans on their first state tournament trip last week. Many of the Trojan fans attending the St. Joe-Muskegon St. Mary game at Boys Vocational School in Lansing can be

TROJANS MAP STRATEGY — The St. Joe Trojan basketball team gets last minute instructions from Coach Tom St. Germain before the opening tipoff in the state tournament semi-final game against Muskegon at Lansing Friday night. The Trojans cut down a wide margin before bowing 58-51 to the Muskegon St. Mary Irish in the semis. St. Joe, Upper Peninsula Class C champions, had defeated East Jordan by a 65-47 score in the quarterfinals at Mt. Pleasant Wednesday night. (Daily Press Photo)

Hawks Lose 7-1, Face Calumet Tuesday Night At Marquette Palestra

CALUMET—The chips are down for the Escanaba Hawks after a 7-1 loss to the Calumet Radars here Saturday night in the third game of the Northern Michigan Hockey League championship playoff series.

The Escanaba sextet, trailing 2-1 in the Doc Gibson playoffs, will be battling to even the series in the fourth game which will be staged Tuesday night at the Marquette Palestra Stadium. Faceoff time is 8:15 (EST).

It will be the Hawks' home game and the Escanaba team will have the right side of the Palestra rink normally occupied by the Marquette Sentinels. Tickets are available at Gust Asp's in Escanaba.

Ted Will Play

The Hawks lacked the power to stay with Calumet Saturday night. They played without the services of Jim Ogle, Ted Olson and Buddy Provo and were unable to apply the pressure on the home sextet.

Olson will be back in uniform Tuesday night to fill out a second strong line against Calumet. He'll team with Mark Olson and Burt Petaja while Len Webster, Joe Ricci and Dave Serbinski will be tied it at 1-1 two minutes later. Defenseman Ed Broughton slipped the puck home after taking a pass from Mark Olson in front of Frank Sotlich in the Calumet goal.

Almo Kemp sent Calumet ahead to start at 13:30 of the first period, scoring on a relay from Owen O'Brien and Johnny Whittaker. Kemp made it 3-1 at 17:20; after taking a pass from defenseman Don Nichols.

Kemp Gets Hat Trick

Kemp completed the hat trick at 2:00 of the second period, Whittaker and O'Brien again furnishing the assist. Whitey Juopperi hit Calumet's fifth goal at 18:20 of the period.

Trailing 5-1 entering the final period the Hawks stepped up the playing pace but penalties cut deep into the thinned-out Escanaba ranks. Joe Ricci, Ed Broughton and

SPECTATORS HURT

Casualties among the spectators took some of the spirit out of Saturday night's hockey game at Calumet. Michael Boggio, young Laurium boy, tumbled 20 feet from the gallery onto the ice and suffered a concussion. Another boy was hurt in the same mishap and a girl spectator was hit in the forehead by a flying puck. All required medical attention.

Mark Olson drew minor penalties in the first 12 minutes of action and the Radars capitalized with two goals during that time.

In all, the Hawks had six penalties in the rugged clash while Calumet was called for five rule infractions.

Ben Is Busy

The Radars kept Big Ben Artwich busy in the Escanaba nets as the Hawk goalie was called on to make 26 saves. Nineteen of the stops came in the hectic final period in which four Hawks sat out in the penalty box. Calumet's goalie Sotlich made 22 saves, 10 of them in the third period.

Artwich and Provo will be missing from the Escanaba lineup tomorrow night. Ogle is taking part in the birling phase of the Milwaukee Sport show and Provo is employed on the Great Lakes.

Remainder of the Hawks will be available, however, and there are no serious injuries to hamper the Escanaba sextet in its crucial bid to knot up the playoff series at two wins apiece.

With Ray Crandall

Here's a well-deserved tribute to the St. Joe Trojans who turned in the best tournament showing of all the basketball teams in the Upper Peninsula. The Trojans' bid for a state Class C championship was stymied by a remarkable Muskegon St. Mary's quint in the state tournament semifinals Friday night at Lansing . . . But St. Joe gained the respect of thousands of Lower Michigan cage fans in spite of the losing battle.

Downstate writers had pegged Muskegon for the Class C championship and most fans went along with the experts . . . The St. Mary quint was well-balanced, extremely fast and blessed with a pair of great guards in Howie Meloche and Jim Morse . . . But the downstate quint needed all of its ability to eliminate the spirited Trojans.

President Will Harridge of the Escanaba Harnischfeger cage team opened the 15th annual Gold Medal basketball tournament here yesterday by defeating Marquette LSI 59-45 in Class A competition.

The Harnies, who pace the Escanaba City League standings, will return to action in a quarterfinal clash Friday night at 10 p.m. (CST) against the Green Bay Big Goats who won over Houghton 63-61 yesterday.

Sixteen teams were in action here last night, all in Class A. Tonight's games will open the Class B competition with four tilts slated to get under way at 7 p.m.

Escanaba's Kessler's Bar and the Rodman's Bar Foxes were both eliminated in upsets yesterday.

Kessler's fell by a narrow 51-48 margin to Munising Harry's Service after running off to a 16-10 lead in the first quarter. Munising grabbed a 30-14 lead at the half but Kessler's bounced back in the third period to regain the edge 38-37.

HERMANVILLE—The Escanaba Harnischfeger cage team opened the 15th annual Gold Medal basketball tournament here in the first five minutes and beat the Sault Ste. Marie All-Stars 10-1 for the state junior hockey championship yesterday.

On the big Olympic stadium ice, home of the Detroit Red Wings major leaguers, the visitors seemed ill at ease and couldn't match the Detroit team.

Ray Boudreau led the winners with three goals. Terry Murphy got two.

It was the 19th straight win for O'Donnell-Blatz, which is undefeated this season. The team will play next weekend in national championships at Lewiston, Mo.

Junior league play is limited to youths of 19 or under.

To Split $1,000,000

KANSAS CITY (P)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association is going to slice a million-dollar pie for 51 schools whose football teams appeared on television last year.

That fact emerged from a 2-day meeting of the NCAA executive committee which ended here today.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said sponsors of the organization's 1952 controlled football television program paid $1,151,100 to televise 33 "live" games.

He said it wasn't known yet just how much each school's share of the pie would be.

The committee hopes to complete work on the 1953 television budget at a meeting in New York

All Favorites Defeated In State Cage Tourney Finals

By JOE FALLS

EAST LANSING (P) — Question: Now can you figure the State High School Basketball Tournament?

Answer: You can't.

As usual, form took a trouncing as the three-week carnival came to an exciting climax Saturday in Jenison Field House.

Four new champions were crowned — Dearborn-Fordson (Class A), St. Joseph (Class B), Saginaw St. Mary (Class C) and Muskegon St. Joseph (Class D).

But look how they won: Dearborn Fordson met a team which had rolled over all opposition all season long, Lansing Sexton.

Win Streak Ended

Sexton brought a 20-game winning streak into the finals and also had the psychological advantage of playing before a home town crowd.

So what happened?

Fordson upset Sexton, 53-47, to win its first Class A title. Dick Skruch scored 21 points for the winners.

The same thing happened in Class D, where Muskegon St. Joseph defeated Detroit All Saints, 58-51, in overtime.

Like Sexton, All Saints brought a perfect record in the championship round. It had won 24 straight.

But like Sexton, it fell with a thud. While Muskegon was scoring seven points in the overtime session, the All Saints lads couldn't buy a point.

Then you take this St. Joseph team which won the Class B crown with a 60-51 victory over Ludington.

Unimpressive Season

Three weeks ago, you wouldn't have given a nickel for St. Joe's chances of winning a sixth state title. The Bears had a very ordinary season, winning eight games while losing seven.

But they rolled through the district and regional play and won out in the quarter-finals and semifinals, too.

Still it didn't look as though St. Joe had the stuff to do it.

But the Bears cut down the bantam Orioles, stopping the losers'

Pete Tillotson in the second half with only four points.

Stopping Tillotson was what did it. The six-foot-six center, who has the grace of a pro, was one of the tourney's outstanding players.

Tillotson scored 12 points in the first half to keep his Ludington team in the chase. But in the second half, St. Joe stopped him with a collapsing style defense.

Muskegon Nipped

Led by Nate Duncan, who scored the clutch baskets, St. Joseph always kept a step or two ahead of Ludington. Duncan, who played his best when the going got roughest, wound up with 18 points.

The only game that wasn't a big surprise was the Class C battle, in which Saginaw St. Mary nipped Muskegon St. Mary, 59-57.

Even this one, though, had the crowd guessing right down to the final minutes.

It was that kind of tournament. It always is. If nothing else, this year's post-season play ended in perfect records. Not one team finished the campaign with an all-winning record.

Still it didn't look as though St. Joe had the stuff to do it.

But the Bears cut down the bantam Orioles, stopping the losers'

Set New Mark In Mile Relay

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sportswriter

Manager Casey Stengel won't admit he's worried yet, but he certainly has a problem with the season opening in only three weeks.

Jansen No Headache

But New York Giants' Manager Leo Durocher, who has had this share of headaches this spring, apparently was minus at least one headache, although his operatives suffered a 1-0 loss to the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League in Oakland.

Larry Jansen, who won only 11 games last year because of a sore back, started and cut loose for the first time. He allowed the Oaks only one hit in his five innings on the mound. If he can come close to his 1951 form when he won 23 games, the Brooklyn Dodgers can begin worrying.

As for the Brooks, Manager Chuck Dressen spent the day wondering what was going to happen in his noble experiment in shifting Jackie Robinson to third base. Stories of dissension over the move caused enough concern among the Brook brass to send Vice President Buzzy Bavasi hurrying to investigate the situation. Apparently it's all ironed out with Billy Cox willing to take the role of utility man.

Blackwell Bright Spot

About the only bright spot in this dreary day for Stengel came when he talked to Redleg Manager Rogers Hornsby about Ewell Blackwell. There had been rumors that the Whip wouldn't be much help to the Yanks, but Hornsby pooh-poohed the idea.

"It's true Blackwell isn't in condition yet," said Hornsby, "but he never is at this time of year. Blakie ought to win between 10 and 15 games if he works regularly."

If the Yank pitchers don't round into form, Blackwell will see plenty of action. In yesterday's slugfest at Tampa, Raschi couldn't hold an 8-1 lead his mates built for him in three innings. All told he was walloped for 10 hits in five innings. His relief, Bill Miller, was even worse. He was tagged for 10 in four innings.

Black In Bullpen

While the game with the Boston Red Sox was rained out in Miami, Dressen took the time to announce what everyone knew—that Joe Black would be in the bullpen again.

We are sure of Preacher Roe, Carl Erskine, Billy Loes and Russ Meyer as starters," he said. "For a time I feared we would need Black as a fifth starter, but young John Podres has looked so good I don't think he can miss."

There were only two other games between major league teams. The St. Louis Browns whopped the Chicago White Sox for Satchel Paige and Harry Brecheen on a home run by Jim upright, and the Milwaukee Braves slugged the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-1.

The San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League defeated the Cleveland Indians, 5-4, when rookie first baseman Joe Macko made an error that led to an unearned run in the 13th inning.

The Los Angeles Angels took a 5-2 setback at the hands of the Chicago Cubs.

Toledo Fans Split On Choice Of Name

TOLEDO, O. (P) — Fans of Toledo's new baseball team today were preferring the nickname "Buckeyes" or "Braves" in a poll conducted by the Toledo Times.

The Times has received 751 suggestions for renaming the old Milwaukee Brewers. The paper will turn over its findings to whatever committee the owning club, the Boston-Milwaukee Braves, designates to make the final selection.

Track officials estimated the loss of the barn at $30,000 and the horses were valued at another $30,000.

Gerry O'Grady, chief of the track's detective detail, said there was nothing to indicate any suspicious circumstances about the fire.

No one was in Barn 22 when fire started.

Flash Fire Kills Five Race Horses

NEW YORK (P) — At least five race horses were dead today after a flash fire leveled a barn at Jamaica race track, the third fire at a New York track and 10th in the country since last May.

Firemen, who kept the blaze from spreading to other barns housing about 500 thoroughbreds getting ready for the track's April 1 opening, could find only five charred carcasses last night in the ruins of Barn 22.

But owner Pat Torino reported the loss of Sign Here, Fair Self and Brave Irish; trainer Larry Paradise said Anne Kissler's Star Ruby was missing; and trainer Maurice Dudley of the Owl Stable said Micheo, a full-brother to the stakes-winning Miche and Teccle, a promising 2-year-old, also was missing.
